

XELACHAN

XELACHAN, highly commended multi skilled music producers, songwriters, musicians.

Alex and Chani, individually professionally known as XELAVATE and CHAN1 forming XELACHAN. A fresh merger of two separate musical backgrounds and era that have the skills and abilities to create compelling multi-genre hybrid productions with new inspirational sounds and music.

A FRESH CONVERGENT DUO!

XELACHAN is the coming together of two outstanding producers both musically and creatively, who share two completely different time-lines in history. CHAN1 has seen 3 decades of music pass by him and taps into the wealth of learning into the production of music. Former music studio manager at Tape London, producer and engineer to two-time Grammy award winning Dallas Austin, CHAN1 has rubbed shoulders and worked for artists such as Justin Bieber, Rihanna, Drake, will.i.am, Mabel, Nicole Scherzinger and many more! And now joins XELAVATE a fast up and coming musically gifted producer. BBC Introducing regular XELAVATE is at the cutting edge looking forward towards trends and current styles. He has demonstrated considerable talent and creativity and has absorbed industry wisdom and skill shadowing the likes of household producer duo 'iLL BLU, who have created for the likes of MoStack, Tion Wayne, and Sneakbo, BMG Multi-Platinum Songwriter / Producer Joe Garrett, and recent President of Urban Island Records Alex Boateng. XELAVATE is also behind the recently trending release 'Very Good Very Nice' which made No:7 in the iTunes Hip-Hop/Rap charts and quickly streaming 10 million Spotify streams and added to Apple Music Viral Hits Playlist.

XELACHAN have the natural ability to hear sound and translate music across multi-genres creating conscious and socially uplifting energy within their world-class productions.

With the creative power and technical skills to translate music that spans over many decades, XELACHAN have the ability to dissect and transform any song into a world-class modern day classic. They emotionally draw out nostalgia and tap into people's feelings and sub-consciousness.

XELACHAN's most recent release "Move Your Body" is the first of many original commercial tracks to follow. XELACHAN were also the masterminds of the 5 official multi genre remixes of the Mantronix iconic late 80's classic landmark banger 'Got To Have Your Love'. This project clearly demonstrates XELACHAN's technical capability and production creativity.

The core of XELACHAN stems from their individual original compositions. The duo have produced a string of original multi-genre billboard productions due for release this year which, will no doubt, stamp the XELACHAN trademark across the music industry. Based at their contemporary purpose built London studio, XELACHAN are also screenwriting and composing music for original TV and online commercials.
